GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

In California turf circles, "Nick" Hall is now as prominent as he was here in Chicago some years ago. His tall, angular frame, his many eccentricities of manner, speech and dress, would make him a marked figure anywhere. Three years ago Nick secured possession of a horse named Floodmore, that had been an indifferent spritzer in Peter Weber's hands and developed him into a gem of a steeplechaser. The horse won race after race for him, several stake races included, and when Nick finally sold him for a stiff figure, he had a bank account of near $200,000. Nick suddenly concluded that bookmaking was a good thing and when he went "on the block," the older and more experienced bookies voted Nick a good thing, and before he fairly realized "where he was at," had his $200,000 safely landed and divided among their several bank rolls. But Nick is made of good stuff, took his medicine bravely, and from the fact that he has recently been a liberal buyer of yearlings is evidently again in favor with Dame Fortune. Very few will begrudge the good-hearted Marylander a liberal slice of prosperity.

St. Cuthbert's brilliant victory in the Pinkerton Handicap emphasizes the fact that St. Carlo is a sire worthy to be the companion of Ormonde. The latter great horse has yet to make his mark as an American sire, but barring death, he will surely justify Mr. Macdonough's liberal enterprise within the next few years. When the horse landed in this country long sea voyaging had almost exhausted his vitality, but he has completely recovered and is now as virile as a 4-year-old. The corps of young Ormondes destined to make its appearance annually hereafter will add much of interest and value to the contending lines of American breeding.

It is a question whether the appointment of a board to review disputed decisions of the judges at Ingleside is a wise move. Racing judges should be supreme in their jurisdiction over all questions arising in connection with racing or else have their functions confined strictly to placing the horses at the finish of each race. The possibility of appeal from the unbiased decisions of judges selected because of their ability, experience, familiarity with racing rules and impartiality, tends to weaken an authority that should have the immovable backing of the racing organizations they serve.

It is evident that the Oakland track is to take rank as one of the fastest in the country, and it will be no surprising thing if some new records are made over it in the near future. The present track is over the outlines of an old one that has been packed by the feet of the trotters and runners for many years past. It is built up an average of eighteen inches above the old course, and with this firm foundation has required less than the usual time to settle into perfect condition. With less sandy and more elastic soil and favored with a drier and warmer climate the Oakland course will probably always excel its rival at Ingleside in the matter of speed performances.

In admitting Harlem to membership the Turf Congress retraced an error that should never have gone on record. The racing at Harlem this year was well conducted and as free from reproach as that carried on over any other western track. The folly of excluding the only first-class track catering to the amusement of the great metropolis of the west has been properly amended and now let us have peace and prosperity.

C. C. RILEY.

THE MAZARIN KILLING.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Dec. 21.—The first coup of the present racing season was worked successfully in the fourth race yesterday, when Mazarin won in a hand gallop and his owners, Bennington & Gardner, and other Chicago attachments cleaned up $30,000 or so. As good as 10 to 1 was to be had against the Farandole gelding and he was backed to 2 to 1 at post time. The odds were based largely upon his last race at Nashville, where he hurt himself so severely that no one would take a chance on buying him, and the circumstance that while at exercise on Saturday he ran away two miles with a stout boy up. The fact that he was ready was kept quiet, and good commissions were placed in New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and Buffalo. In the local ring $700 was placed, the bulk of it at 10 to 1. For the whole amount wagered an average price of 8 to 1 was secured.

TURF CONGRESS WISDOM.

The Western Turf Congress at a meeting held in Cincinnati, Monday night, repaired its error in declaring Pimlico racing participants after November 30, to be outlaws and all officials, owners, horses and jockeys were reinstated. The Harlem Jockey Club was admitted to membership and Rule 205 was changed to permit cities of over 200,000 population to reduce purses to $250.

He finished like a lion. Needs a strong jockey. He was badly ridden and shut off on the first turn. The Dipper was none too well handled. He needs a strong boy. Watch him. Snipsy was short. Zapata had vile luck and was eased up at end. Mainbar had worse luck. He too was eased. Watch this fellow. He's a good colt.
Overweights—Dr. Marks, 3 pounds; Zapata, 1½.

She is an honest filly. Magnus, after interference at the start and on first turn, closed strong and is ready. Hermoso had bad luck all through. It was chiefly caused by bad riding. Flandes was short. He is worth attention.
Scratched—Sing Wing, 103.

Winner—B. c. by St. Carlo—Lady Marion.
Start good. Won easily. There was a keen drive for the place. Marmion is only a sprinter, but is very fast. He smothered his company and was lucky. Attainment ran a good race and was well ridden, after being shut off at start. Was eased at end. Yule is best on mellow going. She favors a route and was far from well ridden. Spunwell also leans to soft going and a distance. She was shut off. She was hampered at start and on the first turn. Highland Ball ran his race. Novia was short and used too much in pacemaking. Official had an easy race after being shut off at the start.
Overweights—Novia, 2 pounds; Highland Ball, 1½.

She favors soft going. Flashlight was overweighted, short and badly ridden. He closed strong. Tab him. Widow Jones ran an honest race. She was outclassed.
